

1st Grade News

“The roots of education are bitter, but the fruit is sweet.” - Aristotle

Mrs. King’s Class

Today’s Date:
January 16th, 2018

Dates to Remember:

January 22nd

Quarter 2 report cards will be sent home in Monday folders

February 7th

Early Release @ 2:05pm

February 7th & 8th

Conferences

February 9th

No school!

Carnival 5-8 pm

Last month we...

Language Arts

- I introduced the magic “e.” Students are working hard to learn their long vowel sounds, and use them in their spelling.
- We are continuing to work hard to build sight word vocabulary to improve students reading fluency.
- As a class we practiced drawing conclusions based on information given.
- Students have been learning about and creating Venn diagrams.

Math

- First graders are working on Chapter 3: Adding strategies.
- Kindergarten students are working on solving addition stories.

Benchmark Testing

Since coming back from winter break, staff and students have been working hard to complete winter Aims web test. Scores will be sent home with your child's report card.

Baggie books

In your child's Monday Folder we will be sending a baggy book home with your child. The hope is that your child will read the book to a family member several times during the week and return the book on Friday, ready to read it to someone.

More information will come home with your child's first baggy book.

Are you smarter than a Sterling falcon? (If returned, student receives a treat) Draw a conclusion: The man made rows and put one type in each. He covered them and watered the rows every day. Soon he saw sprouts and he was able to pick them.

What is the man doing?

A note from Mrs. King!

I hope all families had an amazing winter break and were able to enjoy quality time as a family. Please help your students be ready for school each day by ensuring that they have received enough sleep and have eaten a healthy breakfast.

Thank you,

Mrs. King